

ARISTOTLE AND HORACE ON WHY ART PLEASES

Augustus B. Turnbull Conference Center
Florida State University
February 21 - 22, 2003

A conference sponsored by the Department of Classics of Florida State University with financial support from the George Langford and Family Endowment under the direction of - and in honor of -- Leon Golden, Professor of Classics at FSU

Friday, February 21st

- 9:00-9:30 Coffee and continental breakfast at The Turnbull Conference Center
- 9:30-9:45 Welcome -- W. Jeffrey Tatum
- 9:45-12:15 Session I: W. Jeffrey Tatum, presiding
- E. Belfiore: Tragedy, Thumos and Aesthetic Pleasure
- D. Armstrong: A source for Aristotle: Ate and Hamartia in the Myths of Plato
- 12:15-1:30 Lunch at Turnbull Center
- 1:30-3:30 Session II: Laurel Fulkerson, presiding
- E.W. Leach: Horace, the Happy Spectator and the Illusionary Play: Epistle 2.2.126-140
- W.S. Anderson: Horace, Practicing Poet, and the Range and Problems of Poetry's Performance
- 3:30-4:00 Coffee and Tea
- 4:00-5:00 Session III: Kathryn Stoddard, presiding
- R. Janko: Aristotle and Horace on Why Art Gives us
 Pleasure

Saturday, February 22nd

- 9:00-9:30 Coffee and continental breakfast at The Turnbull Conference Center
- 9:30-12:00 Session V: Francis Cairns, presiding
- D. Konstan: The Pleasure of the Ancient Text

N. Rudd: Mimesis: Aristotle, Horace, Pope, and Beyond

12:00-4:30

Lunch and Excursion to Wakulla Springs State Park

This event will be directed by Nancy de Grummond

7:00:

Closing Dinner at Ninos

Leon Golden: Is Catharsis a Riddle Wrapped in a Mystery inside an Enigma?

All lectures at the Turnbull Conference Center are free and open to the public. Visitors who would like to participate in the excursion to Wakulla Springs or the closing dinner should contact Nancy de Grummond (at ndegrumm@mailier.fsu.edu) in advance of the conference. Visitors who would like to attend the closing dinner should contact W. Jeffrey Tatum (jtatum@mailier.fsu.edu) at least one week before the conference begins, since seating will be very limited.

Tallahassee Regional Airport is served by Airtran Airways, American Eagle/American Airlines, Delta Air Lines, Northwest Airlines and US Airways. Hotels near the University and the Turnbull Conference Center include: The Doubletree Hotel (850-224-5000), The Governors Inn 9850-681-6855), Holiday Inn Select (850-222-9555) and The Radisson Hotel (850-224-6000).