2007 Joint FSUnity and Earth Day Celebration

TALLAHASSEE - FSUnited, the FSU Sustainable Campus & Community Committee, and the FSU Environmental Service Program will together host FSUnity Day and Earth Day 2007 on Wednesday, March 21, 2007. Both FSUnity Day and Earth Day are annual campus events developed for the purpose of educating students and uniting the FSU and Tallahassee communities in order to promote unity, encourage diversity, and prompt positive change in preserving our community both globally and locally.

This year's theme, Building A CommUNITY: Think Globally, Act Locally aims to educate students about the importance of protecting the environment and working together to make our community a cohesive and unified place. The event will feature free food, games, community vendors, and various performances that display the rich culture that exists among the FSU student body and greater Tallahassee community.

FSUnity Day and Earth Day 2007 will take place on the FSU Oglesby Union Green from 10:30am-1:30pm, and we hope to attract a student population of over 1,500 to the event for one of the largest campus celebrations of the year.

For more information about FSUnity and Earth Day 2007, please contact Tymerial McKenzie at 850-590-8680 or Jill Cusack at 850-645-6855. Both FSUnited and the Environmental Service Program are registered student organizations with the Florida State University Student Government Association. This event is additionally sponsored by the FSU Vice President for Student Affairs Office, the Service Learning Program, and the Center for Civic Education and Service.
